In a world of constant change
and streaming technology,
I find solace in the forest
where a tree remains a tree.
